Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Water for Industry: A Symposium Presented on December 29, 1953 at the Boston Meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science The world is in a race for industrial leadership in which the United States and its allies must maintain pre-eminence as a bulwark against nations seeking to destroy democratic government. The industrial might of the democratic nations is a strong deterrent to further world conflict, for it has been this strength that has decided the outcome of the last two world wars. Industrial productivity requires material resources and human ingenuity. Of all the material resources, water is used in greater amounts than any other product, and it constitutes in bulk by far the major constituent of all material commodities required by industry. With increasing populations and ever increasing needs for water, competition for the available supplies has become critical in many areas. Industry must regard water as a controlling factor in plant location or expansion. Actual or threatened water shortage is a matter of national concern. Sensing the serious nature of the...

Reviews

Good eBook and helpful one. It really is written in straightforward words and phrases and never confusing. I am just effortlessly could possibly get a enjoyment of looking at a published book.
